

Connecting the REST API with a database

Do/Don't

- Do retrieve selected elements only rather than retrieving an entire collection and filtering afterwards
- Do define primary keys rather than relying on auto-generated ones
- Do split data into different collections rather than storing list attributes
- Do create join collections whenever appropriate (only for NoSQL database without performant join feature)