

The idea

- ➡ Full-duplex communication between clients (browsers)
- P2P communications, perfect for sending text, video, audio without going through the server ...
- ... except for initialization and signalling that go through the server (usually using Web Sockets)

